AMERICAN SOCIETY OF EQUITY TAKES ACTION.

Meet at Owensboro and Have a Campaign-- Citizens Indorse the Farmers' Plans-- Other Notes About the Growers.

A delegation from the Green River Tobacco Growers' Association of the American Society of Equity, nearly 500 strong, representing five counties of the Green river district, met in Owensboro Tuesday morning of last week and spent the day and night organizing and mapping out a campaign. The sole object of their meeting was to formulate plans to prevent the 1907 crop of tobacco being placed on the market while tobacco of the 1905 and 1906 crops pooled by members of the A. S. of E. is unsold, and the aim was not to disband until a thorough canvass had been made of the five counties to ask every farmer to pledge his crop, and to request all the largest tobacco factories in Owensboro to immediately recall their buyers who were going over the district making contracts for thousands of pounds of this year's crop of tobacco.

On Wednesday morning the farmers' army was divided into four detachments, each under the command of a captain and with a definite line of march mapped out, started from the court-house, unarmed and in a peaceful state, to carry out their plans.

Headed by their newly elected general, L. E. Robertson, State organizer of the A. S. of E., they visited the following factories: The Imperial Cigar, the American, I. M. Vaughn and Frank Birk.

The growers were successful and by Thursday the largest companies announced that they had recalled all of their buyers and would send them out again until the present agitation had quieted down.

The work of visiting the homes of the farmers who had not pooled their tobacco, was kept up until Saturday, and most of the territory in Davies county was covered by the different armies of the A. S. of E., most of them having great success in getting all those who had not pooled their tobacco to sign pledges to do so.

Monday a number of recruits were enlisted, and the army left Owensboro and started for McLean county. Nothing has been made public as to whether or not a second campaign will be made in Davies.

Owensboro Helps.
A petition was circulated among the business and other men of Owensboro, asking for concessions to the A. S. of E., and was unanimously signed. The petition stated that the citizens of Owensboro and Davies county endorsed the action of the members of the A. S. of E. in their peaceful efforts to escape the danger that threatened them.

A. S. of E. Call Meeting.
A meeting has been called by the Breckenridge county chairman, Matthew Shewberry, of the A. S. of E., to be held at Harlanburg, Saturday, November 2. Mr. Shewberry states there is some important business to be attended to, and he urges every member to be present.

Equity Notes.

The fifth annual convention of the National American Society of Equity which was in session at Indianapolis last week, has finished its labors and adjourned.

Mr. Henry S. Berry, a delegate to the convention, had a lengthy article in Sunday's Owensboro Messenger. A matter of much interest in his article was about Mr. J. A. Everitt, in which he writes as follows: Mr. Everitt, who, beyond a question of a doubt, was the originator of the great idea upon which the society was founded, saw himself confronted by accusations and was compelled to decline to stand for re-election to the presidency. Those who brought the charges against him claimed to have the evidence that would substantiate every charge while he claimed that he was accused and denied the charge to confront the charges and clear his name.

C. M. Barnett, of Ohio county, was elected president; Mr. Stutte, of Hills, was elected vice-president, and Mr. Pauley, of North Dakota, was chosen secretary. Mr. Berry's article also contained the following: "What seemed to be such a storm that would shake the society turned out to be only a squall, and I dare say that never was a squall settled that left so little sting and unpleasantness. As pre-arranged in the Kentucky caucus, Mr. Everitt was called to the stage at this time and made a speech offering the new president his hand and promising to give his aid and support to the new officers in carrying out the aims of the society that was so dear to him. His speech touched the hearts of the convention and made every one assembled with that the unpleasant task of turning him down could have been obviated."

The national headquarters of the A. S. of E. will probably be transferred from Indianapolis to Louisville. The tobacco growers of Fayette and Woodford counties at their conventions last week decided not to raise any tax to be levied in 1908.

The National Tobacco Growers are holding a meeting at Shelbyville today.

Local Announcements.

The choir of the Methodist church will give a song service Sunday evening November 3, at the preaching hour. The anthems that will be rendered on this occasion are beautiful, some of the selections being from Gabriel. The music will be under the direction of Mr. A. H. Murray and will be led by Miss Eva May.

Hallow'een will be celebrated on Friday afternoon at the Cloverport Graded school in the rooms of the intermediate and primary departments. Misses McCoy and Margaret Wroe, assisted by Miss Edith Burn, are arranging some unique features for the celebration.

The first buttons of the Little's Cross and Crown Series will be given to every person present at the Methodist Sunday school, Sunday morning, November 3.

Rally Day will be celebrated the third Sunday in November by the Methodist Sunday School. The programme for this occasion will be under the direction of Miss Ida White.

At the prayer-meeting of the Methodist church to-night "The New Testament" will be the topic of discussion.

The soothing spray of Ely's Liquid Cream Balm, used in an atomizer, is an unspeakable relief to sufferers from Catarrh. Some of them describe it as a God send, and no wonder. The thick, foamy discharge is dislodged and the patient breathes freely, perhaps for the first time in weeks. Liquid Cream Balm contains all the healing, purifying elements of the solid form, and is never fails to satisfy. Sold by all druggists for 75c., including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

HIGH NOON WEDDING TODAY.

Miss Alma Weatherholt Will Wed A Young Man From The Far West.

A wedding of much interest to many will take place today when Miss Alma Weatherholt becomes the bride of Mr. Hugh Finch. The ceremony will be solemnized at high noon at the Methodist parsonage at Camleton, Ind., the Rev. Walls officiating.

Miss Weatherholt is a popular young lady of Tobinsport, Ind., and Mr. Finch is of Coffeyville, Kans., where the young couple will make their home.

Regular Packet Service.

Out of Sight.
"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Buckle's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by Severs Drug Co., 25c.

Notice to Tax-Payers.

On November 1, a penalty and $2.50 court cost will go on all unpaid taxes in School District No. 1. Remember the date and come and pay to avoid the new law. Chas. May, Sr., School Tax Collector, office in rear room Cloverport Bank.

John P. Haswell, Jr., Candidate For The Legislature Stands on the Following Resolutions Adopted by the Convention Which Nominated Him.

We condemn the present revenue law, especially that feature which provides for the issuing of tax warrants, thereby imposing heavy penalties on the poor tax-payers in which local officials are the sole beneficiaries and from which the Commonwealth receives no benefits, and if the Republican party is put in power, we pledge ourselves to its repeal.

RESOLVED, We condemn the proposed amendment to the Constitution to be voted upon at the ensuing election because the intention of same is, and the result would be, if adopted, a further means to make bribery and intimidation more easy.

AS TO THE LAW ON ISSUING TAX WARRANTS.

EDITOR NEWS:
The Attorney General is the chief law officer of the Commonwealth, and as such, it is his duty, upon the application of any executive or ministerial officer of the State to give all such officers his opinion in writing touching any of the duties of his office. (See section 113 of the Kentucky Statutes.)

Auditor Hager, now the Democratic candidate for Governor, requested the Attorney General, under this statute, to construe section 24, article 8, of the new revenue act. This is that part of the law providing for tax warrants. In response to this request, the Attorney General filed a written opinion in regard to the law concerning tax warrants on December 13, 1906. Here is what he says in regard to the fees the County Clerk and Sheriff may charge:

"So we conclude the Clerk is entitled to a fee of 60 cents for issuing a tax warrant."

"If the Clerk indexes the warrants he is entitled to 10 cents for each name."

"The first clause fixes the fee (of the Sheriff) at 6 per cent. on the first $300 of the warrant and 3 per cent. on the residue."

Under this opinion of the Attorney General the legal fees are not exceeding 70 cents to the Clerk and 14 cents to the Sheriff. In this county the Clerk has been charging $1.50 as his fee and the Sheriff 50 cents as his cost. In other words, they have charged more than twice as much as the Attorney General says is legal. There were more than 2,000 tax warrants issued in Breckenridge county last year by the County Clerk. Figure it out yourselves and see what this iniquitous tax warrant law cost the tax-payers of this county.

SAD DEATH.

Lovely Young Girl A Victim of Typhoid--Was in Her Seventeenth Year.

Chenault, Ky., Oct. 29. (Special.)—When just in the verge of womanhood and with every promise of a beautiful life, Mary Greenwell, died of typhoid fever, Sunday morning, October 29, after a short illness. The internment took place in the St. Theresa's cemetery the following day, the services being conducted by the Rev. Father Raux.

Miss Greenwell was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Greenwell, of this place, and was seventeen years of age. Besides her parents, she is survived by two sisters and six brothers. Her bright, cheerful disposition won her a host of friends, who deeply sympathize with her grieving parents.

Thomas A. Edison, the great American inventor, says: "Fully eighty per cent. of the illness of mankind comes from eating improper food or too much food; people are inclined to over-indulge themselves." This is where indulgence finds its beginning in nearly every case. The stomach can do just so much work and no more, and when you overload it, or when you eat the wrong kind of food the digestive organs cannot possibly do the work demanded of them. It is at such times that the stomach needs help; it demands help, and warns you by headaches, belching, sour stomach, nausea and indigestion. You should attend to this at once by taking something that will actually do the work for the stomach. Kodol will do this. It is a combination of natural digestants and vegetable acids and contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. It is pleasant to take. It digests what you eat. Sold by All Druggists.

SALEM ASSOCIATION.

Baptists Have Two Days Meeting at Raymond--Fifteen Churches Represented.

The Salem Baptist Association had a two days session Wednesday and Thursday at Raymond. Both days there were many in attendance, and plenty of fried chicken was served to the visitors by the people of Raymond.

Ex-Judge W. L. Hagar was moderator, and Rev. B. G. Saunders was clerk. They were both re-elected to their respective offices of the Association.

The annual reports were read, missions and other matters of interest were discussed by the members and delegates. On account of their beloved pastor, the Rev. Everett English, being ill with eye trouble, the Rev. D. F. Shacklette, of Ekron, acted as minister pro tem.

The Rev. L. S. Sanders, field agent for the Louisville Baptist Orphan Home, was there and made an address in the interest of the home's work.

The meeting was very beneficial and so enjoyable that the association would be pleased to meet at Raymond next year.

SPLENDID U. B. CONFERENCE.

United Brethren Adjourned Sunday--Appointments Read By Bishop Carter.

The annual conference of the United Brethren of the Louisville District of Kentucky, which had been in session since Wednesday at Bollins church, near here, adjourned Sunday after having one of the best meetings in its history.

Bishop T. C. Carter, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and the Rev. I. B. Fisher, pastor of the United Brethren church, of Louisville presided over the Conference.

Wednesday and Thursday the sessions were devoted to the reading of the yearly reports by the delegates and ministers from the different churches of the district. About twenty churches were represented; including the ministers and delegates, forty visitors were in attendance.

Friday and Saturday the election of the presiding elders was held, and the matter of locating a training school in Kentucky and building a church at Columbia was brought before the Conference. Plans were made for both and will probably be carried out this coming winter.

The Stationing Committee had charge of the pastoral supply and the appointments were read Sunday morning by Bishop Carter as follows:

Louisville District. Presiding Elder, I. B. Fisher.

Louisville Station. I. B. Fisher.

Ben View Circuit. To be supplied.

Victoria Circuit. W. J. Etnerton and Rosa Etnerton.

Cloverport Mission. D. L. Bowlds.

Paducah. To be supplied.

Columbia Station. P. E. Hadley.

Edmonton Circuit. J. H. James.

Vester Circuit. J. M. Turner.

Glensville Circuit. J. W. Malane.

Liberty Circuit. W. T. Bowman.

Albany Circuit. M. A. Alberson.

Conference Evangelists. W. K. Gentry and W. R. Lynt.

Frank Turner was elected Sunday school Secretary, and A. Whiten, Evangelist at large.

Bishop Carter delivered a beautiful and inspiring sermon at the chapel Sunday morning.

pleased address and his sermons always touch the hearts of his hearers. Bishop Carter has visited Bollins church before and has won the friendship of many in Cloverport. He and most of the delegates to the conference returned to their homes Sunday afternoon after being delightfully entertained by the people of Patesville.

Has Fifty-One

Pigs in Three Litters.

Editor Farmers Home Journal:

I have an O. I. C. sow that is a record breaker, and I thought a bit of her history would be of interest to your readers. She has had three successive litters of seventeen each, and one of sixteen. I now have fourteen fine pigs of last litter, which are two weeks old. She has had pigs sired by Duroc and Poland-China boars, and has never had anything but a snow white pig. I would like for you to publish this, and see if anybody can beat her record.

Remarkable Demand.

The unprecedented prosperity of the country has brought about a remarkable demand for competent secretaries. In fact, it is now impossible to supply this demand. The Bowling Green Business University is getting something like twice as many calls for its graduates as it is able to supply.

Now is an opportune time for young people to enter business life. Free literature, giving full information, can be had by applying to the Business University, Bowling Green, Kentucky.

Forty Years Between.

By LLOYD OSBOURNE.

Copyright, 1900, by the S. S. McClure Co.

"If it had been any one but him," exclaimed Captain Hadow.

"It's horrible to call him a deserter," said Mr. Francis. "Don't let's do it," said the captain. "We have to say something, sir," returned the first lieutenant helplessly. "One can always lie, I suppose," said Hadow.

"There's nothing I wouldn't do myself for Jack Garrard," said Mr. Francis.

"Why not say he was kidnapped here by the hill tribes?" said Hadow. "We aren't certain about that."

"But the admiral would be bound to inquire into it," said Mr. Francis. "Sooner or later he'd send a ship."

"Trust Jack to get here," said Hadow. "Besides, he'll be sick of the whole thing by the time and only too glad to stop aboard."

"But won't he be asked why we didn't rescue him?" asked Mr. Francis. "No, no, I have it," cried the captain.

"It's certainly a case for stretching a point, sir," said Mr. Francis.

"Enter in the log," said the captain, speaking very slowly and thoughtfully. "That passed Mississippi John de Vigne Garrard, falling to report himself at the expiration of his leave, was afterward discovered to have been kidnapped by the hill tribes of Borneo."

"On my threatening to land a party to recover him I was dissuaded by King George, who claimed himself of any personal responsibility in the matter and who promised, if only I would give him time, to recover the man without bloodshed or any cost to her majesty's government. The king urged that the use of force would imperil the officer's life, which otherwise he had every confidence would be spared."

"Very good, sir," said Mr. Francis. "You'll give old George a flaming character," added Hadow.

"Very good, sir," said Mr. Francis. "File it on about his reverence for the queen and the way he gave beef to the ship," said Hadow.

"And what then, sir?" inquired Mr. Francis.

"Well, you know," said Hadow, "my orders here leave me a pretty wide latitude. You can't tie down a surveying ship in with the same rigidity as you can a simple patrol. By George, sir, I'll lay the ship back here in nine months and retake Master Johnny Garrard."

"If he has any realization of his position he will then go down on his knees and thank you, sir," said Mr. Francis.

"It's more likely to come aboard whistling," exclaimed the captain.

"Of course it will involve a little—lucidity," said Mr. Francis.

"You mean we'll have to lie like blazes," said the captain.

"Well, yes," observed Mr. Francis. "I hope that's understood," said the captain. "But if you don't see a fine lad ruined for a bit of squeamishness. Were he thirty he might go hang, but nineteen—Good Lord, one must have a little mercy."

"If I may say it without offense, sir," said Mr. Francis. "I think you are taking a very noble course in respect to this unfortunate lad."

"Of course I don't want you to think I justify desertion," said Hadow quickly, not ill pleased at the compliment.

"God, sir, it's a shocking thing, but actual cowardice. I positively know nothing worse. Were Jack my son I'd rather see him stretched dead on my feet. I tell you, Mr. Francis, that when I first heard the news I was stunned. I felt myself trembling. The dishonor, the infamy of it struck me here," Captain Hadow laid his hand on his heart.

"Mr. Francis nodded a silent assent. "But we'll save him," cried the captain. "We won't permit this ugly business to blast his life."

"You may count, Captain Hadow, on our most loyal and hearty support," said Mr. Francis.

"Thank you," said the captain, "and you will pass the word along that the subject is not one to be discussed."

"Quite so, sir," said the first lieutenant.

"Not a word!" exclaimed the captain. "Though you might catch the king a bit about the hill tribes. But of course not a whisper that we're ever coming back."

"No, sir," said Mr. Francis.

"This must go no farther than you and me," said Hadow.

"It shall not, sir," returned the first lieutenant.

"We shall sail tonight at the turn of the tide," said the captain.

"Very good, sir," said Mr. Francis.

It was not nine months—it was fifteen and some days to spare—before the Dauntless again raised the peak of Borneo and backed her wayward off the settlement. In the course of that eventful year and a quarter she had zigzagged the whole chart of the eastern Pacific, and from French Frigate Shoals to Pitcairn, from Diamond Head to Little Rapa, she had sounded and plotted reefs innumerable and had covered with a searching persistency vast areas of blue water dotted on the chart with e. d. s. and p. d. s. "Existence doubtful, position doubtful; familiar contractions still on any Pacific chart."

She had twice taken the ground, once so hard and so deep that she almost had begun and lighthouse a hundred tons of stores among the gulls and mews of a half sunken reef. She had had an affair with the unruly natives of the Walker group and had blown a village to fragments and not a few of the Walkers themselves into a land as uncharted as their own. She had tried a beach combat for murder and had dangled him at the main yard arm, giving him later on a Church of England service, a hammock and the use of a cannon ball at his feet. She had poked her nose into cannibal ways, where women of wild beauty and wilder license swam off to the ship in hundreds until the marines drove them back with muskets and fired at their own comrades, who, in their madness, leaped after them into the water. She had lain for weeks in enormous shoals, where the only life was that of birds and the silence was unbroken save for the long roll of the surf and at night the ghostly glow of the lower decks of the sand. She had been everywhere in those labyrinthine seas, those haunts of romance and mystery, with love, danger and death at her elbow.

It was morning when Hadow raised the island, a desecrated speck of cloud against the sky line, and he shortened at once and staggered at the sight, so as to bring him up to it by dark.

After supper every light on board was doused, and the great hull, gliding through the glass smooth water, emerged her steep sides and towering masts and canvas into the universal shadow.

With whispering keel and a wind so fair and soft that one wondered to see the sails stiffen in the bolt ropes, the man-of-war stole steadily to leeward, with no sound but the occasional creak of cordage or the hoarse murmur of voices from the lower deck.

By 10 the ship was hove to close shore, and the lights of the little settlement glimmered through the palms.

There was a faint odor of orange fragrance and strangely exciting in the intensity of its stillness and beauty, hid beneath its far reaching palm the various objects of the ordinary drama. With pistols buckled to their hips, Brady, Winterville, Hotham and Stanbury-Jones, four officers of the ship, stood on the beach, looking at one another with a certain air of self-satisfaction.

There was a faint odor of orange fragrance and strangely exciting in the intensity of its stillness and beauty, hid beneath its far reaching palm the various objects of the ordinary drama. With pistols buckled to their hips, Brady, Winterville, Hotham and Stanbury-Jones, four officers of the ship, stood on the beach, looking at one another with a certain air of self-satisfaction.

groped his way among them. "Come!" he said.

They followed him in silence, unloosing their holsters and grimly ready. A pair of handcuffs clinked in Hatch's jumper.

Winterville, with keen perception, led the way like a hound, skirting lighted houses and following devious inland paths. The comparative openness of the village began to give way to a ranker undergrowth of the plantations behind it. The path sank into a choking vegetation that stood on either side and brushed their faces as they followed in single file. A fallen tree gave them the passage of a stream.

"There!" said Winterville.

The path opened on a little clearing among the trees and showed them, set on the outlines of a native house. Like all Tahitian houses, it was on the model of a bird cage, and the oval wall of bamboo, set side by side, let through vertical streaks of light from the lamp or fire within.

As the whole party drew nearer they heard, deep below them, on the other side, the pleasant sound of falling water and realized that the cliff they were mounting overlooked a little lake at its foot. Here in exquisite seclusion Jack Garrard had chosen the spot for his moral suicide.

Creeping up to the house and looking through the cracks of the bamboo, his comrades saw him sitting within, dressed like a native in tapa cloth, with bare chest and flowers in his tawny hair. He was sitting in a hammock, and with her head against his knee a beautiful girl was looking up into his face, one hand locked in his.

In that land of pretty women she was the one that outshone them all—Tehea, the sister of the king, for whose sweet favor every man on board had sought in vain. And here she was with her long hair loosened and her eyes swimming with love, looking up at the lad who had given name and honor to her heart. The pair were hardly more than children, and Brady, a sentimentalist of forty, with red hair, sighed as he peeped through the eaves and thought of his own dear daughter.

Garrard laid down the pipe he had been smoking and in happy unconsciousness of any audience but the woman at his feet began to sing. His voice had always been his greatest charm and the means of gaining him the friendship of men much older than himself. It had won Hadow. It had won Francis. There was not a blue-jacket on board the Dauntless but whose eyes had moistened under the spell of Jack's clear tenor. No one could render with such delicacy, purity and sentiment those ballads, now so old fashioned, that used to solace our seafaring fathers in the fifties. Jack lay back in the hammock and, with wonderful tenderness and feeling, sang "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton," repeating the last verse several times over. It was plain that something in it—some phrase or line—had deeply moved him, for he suddenly bent over and laid his face in his hands, shaking with a strange emotion. Tehea arose and, throwing her arms round his neck and forcing away his hands, pressed her lips to his wet eyes. Even as she did so Brady gave the signal for the whole party to move round to the door.

He entered first, the others close behind him. Jack leaped to his feet, white and speechless, his wide open eyes those of an animal in a trap. Winterville, Stanbury-Jones, Hotham

Hatch, the familiar faces daunted him like the sight of ghosts. Friends no longer, they were now avengers, with the right to track him down and kill him.

"Jack!" cried Brady in a stifled voice. The lad took a step back. The girl moaned and tried to run between Hatch and Stanbury-Jones. The old seaman caught and shook her like a dog, tearing away the whistle she put to her lips and dashing it on the floor.

"Shoot or I'll shoot!" cried Brady. "Shoot and be hanged!" returned Jack. And with that he turned his pistol on himself, and placing the muzzle against his forehead pulled the trigger.

It missed fire.

Before he could try again Brady had caught him round the neck, while

Many A Kentucky Citizen Knows

How Sure They Are.

Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's kidney pills in Kentucky. There is plenty of positive proof of this in the testimony of citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical sufferer. Read the following statement: Mrs. L. Varall, living at 923 Fifth St., Louisville, Ky., says: "I am happy to say that Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great benefit to me and to other members of my family. I frequently had attacks of backache and kidney trouble before using my remedy but after using two boxes of the pills the troubles were entirely cured. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a great many of my friends for I attribute my present good health to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Hatch, resigning the girl to Stanbury-Jones, ran in and snatched the handcuffs from his wrists.

"Jack," cried Brady, "we aren't going to hurt you! We're rescuing you from the hill tribes! Man, you're saved!"

"You never was no deserter," said Hatch.

"Mind you back us up, old fellow," said Winterville.

"Give us your gun, boy," said Hotham.

It was some time before Jack could pull himself together. When at last he did so and began to appreciate the generosity of his captain and shipmates and their astounding concern to save him from the penalty of his crime, he underwent one of those reactions when despair gives way to the maddest gaiety. He swore at Hatch and made him take off the iron; he got out a bottle of white rum and forced them all to drink his health; he kept them in a roar with the story of his adventures and laughed and cried in turn as he described his life ashore.

"What does she want?" demanded Brady, as Tehea insistently repeated some words in native.

"She says," said Jack calmly, picking up the whistle from the floor and touching it to his lips, "she says I've only to rest and you will all be dead in five minutes!"

A hush fell upon the company. Jack, with an oath, flung the whistle to the door.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I am grateful. I am d—d grateful. If I live I shall try to repay each one of you. I shall try to be a better man; I shall try to be worthy of your kindness." He went round and shook hands solemnly with every one of them.

"D—d grateful!" he repeated. "Let's be off," said Brady.

"Now, lad, your word of honor," said Winterville.

Jack looked about him helplessly. "I suppose I've no right to ask such a thing," he said. "I know how good you've been to me already, and all that. But—gentlemen—she's my wife. I love her. I shall never see her again. May I not entreat a single minute for myself?"

"No," said Brady.

"Jack went over to Tehea and took her hand. He put his arms about her, and, unashamed, before them all, pressed her comely head against his breast. He tried to explain the inexorable fate he was so powerless to resist; in incoherent whispers he told her he would break his chains and return to her, free in the years to come

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have been afflicted with any of the above troubles may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar bottles are sold at all good druggists.

Don't make any mistake but remember, the name Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1907.

The machine is on the run.

"Help me Billy, or I sink."—Beckham.

President Roosevelt was 49 last Sunday, October 27.

Smash the machine by voting the straight Republican ticket next Tuesday.

There is no politics in this race. The question is, shall we have decency, honesty, sobriety and be free from boss and machine rule.

Mr. Willson has personally promised Mr. Haswell that he will sign a bill to repeal the law providing for penalties and tax warrants.

Every man, woman and child in this county knows just where John Haswell stands and how he will vote in the next Legislature. They don't know where Dr. Foote stands.

There is a "bat wing" manufactory now in full operation in this county. Shun the "bat wing" and the men who handle them. It is a strike at your liberties as a freeman.

Machine politics and boss politicians are the curse of our State and government. Are you in favor of continuing and endorsing their methods? If so, vote for Hager and Foote, if not, vote for Willson and Haswell.

We believe Mr. Willson when he says: "I am happily free from machine and trust alike, and I am just finishing an earnest campaign which is to free the people of Kentucky from the machine which the tobacco trust has given large sums of money in order to keep in power."

"The nation is looking with interest upon the political battle that is now being waged in Kentucky. The verdict will give encouragement to people everywhere who believe in honest elections and fair dealings between man and man if that verdict is rendered for Augustus E. Willson."—Vice President Charles Warren Fairbanks.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE.

"I am a Republican, but if the Republican party is against temperance I should be against the Republican party. I never saw the day I would let the Republican party govern my judgment on moral questions."—A. E. Willson.

And the man who said this: "I am a Democrat. If a majority of the Democrats are for whisky, I AM FOR WHISKY. If a majority of the Democrats are for temperance, I AM for temperance." S. W. Hager.

BECKHAM AND THE FARMERS.

It is heralded over this country that Gov. Beckham is the best friend we ever had. We admit he did not oppose the capitol appropriation, but if any of the one things said about his administration in regard to contributions received, (rather tribute exacted) from public contractors, be true, then it may be that he favored the appropriation in order to have another large contractor, who could, if he felt disposed, contribute to his campaign. But let us look at the Governor's record as a friend of the farmer. It was shown by an investigating committee of the Senate that the great Tobacco Trust, called the American Tobacco Co., contributed fifteen thousand ($15,000) dollars to Gov. Beckham's campaign expenses. We do not know whether they thought they had a promise like the liquor men thought they did, but it is plain that the only law that was ever on the statute books that favored the tobacco grower, the McCain law, was repealed by one of the Governor's legislatures. Strange that in all his speeches the Governor has never once referred to his position on that law, or on the tobacco trust—a subject that is alive just now. The farmers and tobacco growers should remember this contribution and the repeal of the law that followed, when they are reminded of the many things the Governor has done."—Editorial in Frankfort Call of November 2, 1906.

She Did Not Fear Death.

An old lady on her seventy-third birthday once said: "I do not mind getting old, and I do not fear death, but I live in a constant dread of paralysis."

"For some time I have been waiting to tell you of the great good your wonderful Sloan's Liniment is doing here," writes Mrs. James F. Abernethy, of Rutledge College, N. C. "In fact, all your remedies are doing noble work, but your Liniment beats all. In my eight years' experience with medicine I find none to go ahead of it, having tried it in very many cases. I know of one young man, a brick mason, who suffered from a partial, yes, almost a complete, paralysis of one arm. I got him to use your Liniment, and now he can do as much work as ever, and he sings your praise every day. I get all to use it possibly can and know there is great virtue in it. I have helped the sale of your remedies about here greatly, and expect to cause many more to buy them, as I know they can't be beat."

Deface Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hally's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

A New Departure

We have bought the stock of goods of R. M. Jolly & Sons. We have added a full line of general merchandise and propose a new departure in the selling of these goods in Irvington. We have decided to adopt the Cash System, one price to all and at price the lowest. Not a nickel's worth of goods goes out of our house to any one, no matter how rich or how poor, unless we get the money or its equivalent.

This is the only way to do business, the only way we can do it. We think we can make it to everybody's interest to trade with us and pay us Spot Cash. We will guarantee you a saving of 25 per cent. on all you buy from us. Come and see us. Come prepared to trade and pay the cash. We will take all kinds of country produce.

Lightfoot—Leitch.

The marriage of Miss Sallie Johnnie Lightfoot, of Hawesville, to Mr. John C. Leitch, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was a social event of last night in which Cloverport felt much interest, the bride having been a frequent and always popular visitor here. The ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock in the pretty little Presbyterian church, adorned for the occasion with autumn foliage and many potted plants. Rev. Dr. Smith, of Louisville, being the officiating clergyman. The bride party entered to the "Classic Chorus" from "Lohengrin" rendered by a choir under the direction of Mrs. Alfred Hennen. The ushers, Messrs. Ewing Lightfoot, of Henderson, and Thomas James de Hunt, of Cannelton, headed the procession, followed by the maid of honor, Miss Julia Beauchamp Hinkle, walking alone; lastly coming the bride on the arm of her father, Dr. John Foster Lightfoot. Mr. Leitch, with his best man, Dr. Charles Ross, Lightfoot, of Paducah, entered from the lecture room, and the impressive Episcopal ring ceremony was used. White satin chiffon, made empire style with long court train, with elaborate insets of heavy antique lace was the brides toilette, completed by a long tulle veil and a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Hinkle was becomingly attired in white pompadour net, made princely style over light blue tulle, and carried American Beauties. Relatives a d intimate friends were entertained at the bride's home after the service, this house being artistically decorated and the bridal table, at which twelve were seated, especially handsome.
A profusion of rare gifts evinced the popularity of both parties and were chosen with marked taste.
Mr. and Mrs. Leitch took the 11:20 train for St. Louis where they are spending to-day. Friday night a large reception will be given in their honor by the groom's sister, Miss Leitch, in Allegheny, where the family connection is extensive and prominent in society.

THE LAST ROAD.

ACROSS the silence of the hills
(Oh, distant hills of dream)
The piper's single note is heard
And ripples like a stream.
Beyond the moor, beyond the fen,
Thin, tremulous and clear,
It pierces to the souls of men,
It calls, and they must hear.

THE VOICE OF ALL THE CROWDED TOWN
(Oh, voice of tears and laughter)
The piper's charmed notes shall drown
They turn and follow after His will lure their feet are drawn To walk a way they do not know
Whatever heart be left to mourn
It calls, and they must go.

IF YOU HAVE A JOB WORTH KEEPING,
Just hang on;
Some one for it is seeking,
So hang on;
Work the very best you can—
Better than the other man.
You will find it the best plan
To hang on.

IF THE ROAD IS GROWING THORNY,
Just hang on;
Mind not if your hands get horny,
Just hang on;
Labor's what the stomach fills;
Gives the health that throbs and thrills.
It's the road that's left to keep,
And the road that's left to keep.

IF YOU'RE GOING UP THE SLOPE,
Just hang on;
And the auto gear gets broke,
Just hang on;
Your machine may lose a bump,
Fly down hill and hit a stump,
Thy downer senseless from the bump
Just hang on.

IF YOUR WATCH AND CHAIN'S IN PAWS,
Just hang on;
To the clock and the chain on;
Just hang on;
Maybe luck will come your way;
You may have a watch and a chain;
Take my advice; hear what I say,
And hang on.

FOR CHRONIC DIARRHOEA.
"While in the army of 1863 I was taken with chronic diarrhoea," says George M. Felton, of South Gibson, Pa.
"I have since tried the Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, but without any permanent relief until Mr. A. W. Miles, of this place, persuaded me to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, one bottle of which stopped it at once." For sale

THE FAIRY FIDDLER.
"TIS he fiddling, fiddling,
I make the blackbirds' music
Ere in his breast he takes it,
The sleep 'g larks I waken
'Tis he midnight and the morn.

NO MAN ALIVE HAS SEEN ME,
But women hear me play
Sometimes at the door or window,
Fiddling the soul of the children,
The child's soul and the children's,
Out of the covering lay.

ON ONE OF MY FAIRY KINSMEN
I make music with my bow,
Alone the paths I wander,
Or ride the wildest of winds,
But the wild swans they know me,
And the horse that draws the plow.

"THE DEAR OLD DAYS."
GIMME back the dear old days—all
the boys in the world
"Boy stood on the burnin' deck"
an' "Hissed on the Ritz"
"Twas midnight; in his guarded tomb—we spoke it high an'
low.

WHILE MARY TROTTED OUT THAT LAMB "whose
feet were white as snow
Gimme back the dear old days—that memory lives to keep
With "Pilot, Pilot, Pilot"—there's danger on the deep"
The old time, awkward gestures—the jerk meant for a bow, the "good evening"
We said that "curfew should not ring,"
but, Lord, it's ringing now!

GIMME back the dear old days—the pathway through the fields
To the schoolhouse in the blossom;
the spring of fountains;
Tinkles 'round the hedges; the song of the "bird an' brook."
The old time dictionary an' the blue
black speckle book!

ONE, LIKE A DREAM FOREVER—A CITY'S hid
the place
Where stood the old log schoolhouse, an'
no familiar face
In smilin' there in welcome beneath a mornin' ray;
There's a bridge across the river, an'
we've crossed an' said "goodby!"
—Atlanta Constitution.

TRACED.
A STARTLED flamingo takes flight in
the west;
Flies east or flies west—but the bird may be traced
By one plume that was shed as it flew!
My love, though your heart on confession was bent,
There is one way word in the letter you
sent,
And my heart will follow the clue.

WOMAN AND FASHION

For Summer Outings.

Cool and exceedingly pretty is the frock of white linen here shown. It is not of the stiffened kind of linen, but has a soft, dull finish and hangs in graceful folds.

WOULD BE THE DEATH OF HER.
A priest asked a young man who came to confess why he carried his living. "In an acrowbat, your riverence." The priest was surprised.
"I'll show you what I mean in a bit of shaker," said the penitent, and a moment was turning himself inside out in the most approved acrobatic fashion.

THE PARMENTER TEACHERS.
Ours is the hardest task, yet not the least. We receive the blessing for our toil
From the choice spirit of the affertime.
My soul is not a native of the past.
Where outworn creeds, like Rome's gar-gates, quail.

THE TIME IS RIPE, AND ROTTEN RIPS.
Then let it come. I have no dread of it. It is called for by the instinct of mankind.
Nor think it that God's world will fall Because we tear a parchment more or less.

Cures Rheumatism and Catarrh—Medicine
Free.
Send no money—Simply write and try Botanic Blood Balm. (B. B. R. K.) or destroys the poison in the blood which causes the awful aches in back and shoulder blades, shifting pains, swollen muscles and joints of rheumatism, or the four limbs, having, spirit-ing, droppings in the joints, and specks flying before the eyes, all played out feeling of catarrh. Botanic Blood Balm has cured hundreds of cases of 30 to 40 years' standing after doctors, hot springs and patent medicines had all failed. Most of these cases had taken Blood Balm as a last resort. It is especially advised for chronic, deep-seated cases. Impossible for any one to suffer the agonies of symptoms of rheumatism or catarrh while or after taking Blood Balm. It makes the blood pure and rich, thereby giving a healthy blood supply. Cures are permanent and not a patching up. Drug Stores, $1 a bottle. Sample of Blood Balm sent free and prepaid, also special medical advice by describing your trouble and writing Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.

SENSATIONS IN TRIMMINGS.
It is evidently true that the early fall will usher in some sensations in the way of trimmings. There must be something new to distinguish the new season, and, although there are countless ways of combining laces and em-broderies, the designers' energies are reared bent just now toward the development of something that is an exception. Therefore it is not surprising that we have become accustomed.
After the way creonnes have been taken up we can expect almost anything. One of the latest decorations—on trial—is a sort of coarse lace made from hempen string. Certainly the description does not sound elegant, but the same is true of cretonne; one has to see the really beautiful way in which these embellishments are employed to appreciate their novelty and chic.

NEWS ABOUT SLEEVES.
Just now, when the thermometer runs high in the thermometer and short sleeves are a boon beyond words, comes the news that lacy laces and little by little the great folk of the sartorial world are trying to show their downfall and that indications point to full length in the near future.
Some of the latest Parisian gowns, but the same is true of cretonne; one has ployed to appreciate their novelty and chic.

THE SMALL BOY'S SUIT.
The Russian blouse really, but a variation of the sailor suit, has many friends, and for these costumes galles in blue and white and gray and white stripe is used extensively this summer. The material launders well and in the dark colors does not readily show soot.

WHITE GALATEA BURNIAN BLOUSE.
For wear with those suits gowns, brown kid or patent leather is considered the proper footwear. White socks and self-colored stockings of half length with the shoes of golden brown

THE FAIRY FIDDLER.
"TIS he fiddling, fiddling,
I make the blackbirds' music
Ere in his breast he takes it,
The sleep 'g larks I waken
'Tis he midnight and the morn.

NO MAN ALIVE HAS SEEN ME,
But women hear me play
Sometimes at the door or window,
Fiddling the soul of the children,
The child's soul and the children's,
Out of the covering lay.

ON ONE OF MY FAIRY KINSMEN
I make music with my bow,
Alone the paths I wander,
Or ride the wildest of winds,
But the wild swans they know me,
And the horse that draws the plow.

"THE DEAR OLD DAYS."
GIMME back the dear old days—all
the boys in the world
"Boy stood on the burnin' deck"
an' "Hissed on the Ritz"
"Twas midnight; in his guarded tomb—we spoke it high an'
low.

WHILE MARY TROTTED OUT THAT LAMB "whose
feet were white as snow
Gimme back the dear old days—that memory lives to keep
With "Pilot, Pilot, Pilot"—there's danger on the deep"
The old time, awkward gestures—the jerk
meant for a bow, the "good evening"
We said that "curfew should not ring,"
but, Lord, it's ringing now!

GIMME back the dear old days—the path-
way through the fields
To the schoolhouse in the blossom;
the spring of fountains;
Tinkles 'round the hedges; the song of
the "bird an' brook."
The old time dictionary an' the blue
black speckle book!

ONE, LIKE A DREAM FOREVER—A CITY'S hid
the place
Where stood the old log schoolhouse, an'
no familiar face
In smilin' there in welcome beneath a
mornin' ray;
There's a bridge across the river, an'
we've crossed an' said "goodby!"
—Atlanta Constitution.

TRACED.
A STARTLED flamingo takes flight in
the west;
Flies east or flies west—but the bird may be traced
By one plume that was shed as it flew!
My love, though your heart on confession was bent,
There is one way word in the letter you
sent,
And my heart will follow the clue.
—Edith M. Thomas.

BEARD RIGHTS.
A true specimen of manly chivalry was encountered in a Boston kindergarten. The teacher discovered that a small boy was chewing gum, and she bade him disgorge it.
"I can't," he said.

"YOU CAN'T," HE ANSWERED IN SURprise. "Why, yes, you can, and you must."
"No, I can't," he persisted and kept the gum in his mouth.
"Now why can't you give me that gum, Johnny?"
"Because it belongs to a little girl in Somerville."—Ladies' Home Journal.

FIFTY YEARS A BACKMISTRESS.
Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold.
Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germ.
It is the same with all infectious diseases. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world.

IN A DIFFERENT CLASS.
Melinda had eliminated the servant girl problem from our domestic circle for five years, and we felt competence in the subject of her pay.
"We've been paying Melinda $4 a week for three years," mother said, and she does the washing every Monday as regularly as the days come.

"WHY DON'T YOU PAY HER FIVE A week?" father suggested.
"Melinda is informed that she was to get five per cent. more. She was delighted. On the following Monday she came to bring forth the news on the back porch, as was her wont.
"Aren't you going to wash today, Melinda?" mother asked after the morning had worn along.

"NO, M'DE. FIVE DOLLAR GALS DON'T wash." That is to be cheap ladies'— Lippincott's.

HE DEPENDED.
A Scotch minister was endeavoring to steer a boat load of ladies to the landing place on one of the highland lochs.
A squall was bursting, and the steering was difficult, when one of the girls annoyed him by jumping up and calling out abusively, "Oh, where are we going to?"

"IF YOU DO NOT SIT DOWN AND KEEP still, my young lady," said the minister, "I will have to put you overboard on how you were brought up."

and colds and is good for every member

HOPELESS.
"Jacob Smithers, criminal," said the retired lawyer, "sat in his cell making paper boxes when a dear old lady looked through the peephole in the door inquisitorially.

"YOU POOR MAN," SAID THE OLD LADY,
"I guess you're as hard as when your time is up, won't you?"
"Waal, no'n't, particularly," Jacob Smithers answered. "I'm in fur life."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

HE RECOGNIZED THEM.
Private John Allen of Mississippi watch the parade of the Grand Army of the Republic.

"THAT'S A FINE LOT OF MEN," COMMENTED
the Union soldier who fought all through the civil war on the Confederate side.
There is something strangely familiar about them. It seems that I have seen many of them before.

"DO YOU MEAN TO SAY," ASKED SENATOR
Mason of Illinois, who stood alongside,
"that you recognize any of those faces forty years after the close of the war?"
"Not faces," backed.

HARD LUCK.
"My mother gives me a nickel every morning when I take cold liver oil," said Willie proudly.
"What do you do with it?" inquired his little friend.

"MOTHER PUTS IT IN A MONEY BOX UNTIL there is a dollar."
"And what then?"
"Why, then mother buys another bottle of cod liver oil with it."

EMBARRASSED THE BOY.
A business man was telling some friends of the disadvantages of having two telephones in his business office.
"A new office boy entered upon the discharge of his duties last weekend," he began, "among which duties is that of answering the telephone calls. The very first call resulted in his hanging up the receiver with the statement—

"YOU'RE WANTED AT THE PHONE BY A lady, sir."
"Which one?" he asked, thinking of the girl.
"Waal, sir," said the boy after an embarrassed pause, "I think it's your wife, sir."—Harper's Weekly.

A CHANCE FOR FIGHTING BOB.
Through a typographical error in the title a bill came to the senate reading
"A bill to retain the name of 'Fighting Bob' Evans," etc., when it should have read
"petty officers."

SENATOR THILMAN, WHO IS NO GREAT fighter for beauty himself, saw the bill, read the title and said: "That's a good idea. Retire all the petty officers and give Bob Evans a chance."

ONE POINT OF VIEW.
Bart Kennedy, the English novelist and sociologist, says of the American people. Oh, yes, very true to them-very true indeed. Whenever I think about how true the senate is to the people the people of Mary Miles come into my mind. Mary's husband was a soldier out in India fighting for his king. One day a friend said to Mary:
"What are you doing about it?"
"I'm going to write a book," she said.
"I'm going to write a book," she said.
"I'm going to write a book," she said.

THE AUDIENCE AGROD WITH HIM.
An English orator rose to make an extended speech. He began:
"Mr. Chairman, I have lived long enough."
"Heard, heard!" yelled the audience, and amid a storm of laughter the aspirant for political honors resumed his seat.

ACCIDENTS WILL HAPPEN, BUT THE BEST regulated families keep Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for such emergencies. It alleviates the pain and heals the hurts.

THE OTHER POINT OF VIEW.
"No be a little girl of ten Seems nice enough to boys and I wonder if they've ever tried to make love to the other side?"

I DON'T SUPPOSE THEY'D EVER GUESS
the stiffness of a starched white dress.
I wonder how long it takes the looks,
let alone the way it looks.

THEY'D SAY IT WAS SOME AND SAW
And watch their brothers come and go.
I should not even like to say
That they would bear it for a day.

THEY DO NOT KNOW HOW HARD IT SEEMS
To be a girl still in one's dreams.
To feel that one can never be
A drummer boy or go to sea.

THEY DO NOT KNOW HOW HARD IT SEEMS
To be a girl still in one's dreams.
To feel that one can never be
A drummer boy or go to sea.

THEY DO NOT KNOW HOW HARD IT SEEMS
To be a girl still in one's dreams.
To feel that one can never be
A drummer boy or go to sea.
